Posters Tell of Purge in Red China

By JOHN RODERICK
TOKYO (AP) — Wall posters in Peking indicated today that a sweeping purge of Red China's leading military men is under way in Mao Tse-tung's drive to weed out supporters of President Liu Shao-chi. They also reported a big step up the power ladder by Mao's wife.

A correspondent of the Japanese newspaper Sankai Shimbun said 25 top military men have come under fire as followers of the bourgeois, reactionary line. Wall posters put up by the postal and telegraph workers said that Mao's aggressive third wife, Chang Ching, has been named chairman of a new committee formed to press Mao's purge in central party and government organizations.

Her new importance was underlined by the fact that Premier Chou En-lai, who might have been expected to head such a committee, has been named to serve on it as Mrs. Mao's adviser.

Another wall poster reported a clash between Soviet and Red Chinese troops on an unspecified date on the Manchurian border. The report said a Soviet battalion opened fire on a Chinese army company and was repulsed. It said Soviet soldiers were captured but later released.

If true, this would be the first known exchange of shots between the two Communist powers since the Maoist purge began last August. Mao recently was reported to have ordered an alert all along China's border with the Soviet Union.

Among the military leaders included in the wholesale indictment were Vice Defense Minister Hsiao Ching-kuang, air force commander Wu Fan-hsien, navy deputy commander Li Tso-peng, Ulanfu, commander of the Inner Mongolian military district, and Wang En-mao, commander of the Sinkiang military district.

Showdown on Ouster of Sukarno

By T. JEFF WILLIAMS
JAKARTA (AP) — One of army strongman Gen. Suharto's top deputies indicated today that a showdown in the struggle to force President Sukarno to retire may be imminent.

Maj. Gen. Alamsjah said an answer to new military proposals to end the power struggle may be forthcoming tonight.

"There will be no more missions, no more talks," he declared. "The decision has been taken. We are just waiting for the answer."

Military leaders and Cabinet ministers have repeatedly urged Sukarno in recent weeks to step

The Convicts' Casino May Be Removed

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — The bull pen, Nevada's answer to gambling in prison, may be on its way out.

The convicts' casino in the maximum-security state prison is under attack.

The gambling-conscious state calls it "certainly the most unique gambling establishment in the world."

Speaker Mel Close of the Nevada Assembly calls it "the most depressing thing in the world."

Gaines in the "bull pen," run by inmates for inmates, include everything from poker through blackjack and craps to chuck-a-luck.

Close says it is not the "type of situation that's conducive to rehabilitation."

"The only thing prisoners are being trained for now is shills," he charged.

Close and five other assemblymen entered a bill Monday to outlaw the bull pen. Close said he has enough support to push it through the assembly.

A prison report issued under Republican Gov. Paul Laxalt's predecessor, former Gov. Grant Sawyer, a Democrat, had this to say:

"Employees (prisoners) in the casino are carefully screened by an administrative committee prior to being granted permission to operate the diverse games of chance functioning within the casino."

"Incidents of cheating and malpractice in the running of these activities are nonexistent. Most inmates, regardless of background in such activity are meticulously fair and honest."

But Close said: "Very few people at the prison have any money. And the little bit they do have is taken from them through the bull pen."

"Sometimes, in this environment, people might get indebted for more than money."

Close said gambling is prohibited in Nevada's minimum-security prison.

"So the worst guys we've got in prison are the ones who are allowed to gamble," he said.

Took Along a Lot of Kisses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six-year-old Vicky Solomonson brought along a valentine — and a lot of kisses — when she went to see the President.

Vicky, a mentally retarded granddaughter of vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, visited the White House Monday.

The blonde youngster gave President Johnson a valentine gift of ginger cookies for his efforts on behalf of the handicapped.

At her grandfather's urging, she also gave the President numerous kisses. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Solomonson of Burnsville, Minn.

Military Has Stormy Seminar

By BOB HORTON
WASHINGTON (AP) — An Air Force Reserve colonel says former Arizona Gov. Samuel P. Goddard Jr. was a central figure in a stormy military seminar that led to a top general's reassignment.

Col. Michael J. Jackson said Goddard argued more than 45 minutes with Maj. Gen. Jerry D. Page, then commandant of the Air War College, after Page spoke critically of Pentagon policies and conduct of the Vietnam war.

They were at a closed seminar last December for a group of reserve officers at the Air Force's Air War College at Montgomery, Ala.

A few days after addressing the group the two-star general was suddenly removed as commandant of the service school and ordered to head a combat outfit on Okinawa.

Goddard previously denied participating in any hassle. He could not be reached immediately for comment on the remarks by Jackson, who also attended the seminar.

"I never mix Air Force with politics," Goddard had said. But Jackson, in a letter to The Associated Press, said this was "contrary to the facts as witnessed by me, 47 other Air Force Reserve colonels and certain members of the Air War College faculty."

Jackson urged a Pentagon investigation "of this entire affair," saying the incident "invites complete destruction of the policies of academic freedom and nonattribution practiced in our military schools."

Copies of the letter went to Sens. Harrison A. Williams, D-N.J., Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., and Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, along with former Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, a reserve major general.

Contacted by telephone at his office in a New York publishing firm, Jackson said he could not discuss specific items which arose during the seminar because of the ground rules which are established for such sessions.

But he said Goddard arose after Page had discussed administration policies and "gave the impression of trying to impose a political gag on the way the Air Force conducts its war college."

According to Jackson's account, Goddard introduced himself as Arizona's governor and

"commander-in-chief" of the state's army, air force and navy, and mentioned his acquaintance with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

MIRROR, MIRROR in my hand, who's the fairest in the land? Linda Holloway, top, and Pam Strayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., aren't going to argue about it, but their faces posed next to each other do make two pretty reflections.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. JAY LAWRENCE CARTER

The glow of candlelight softened the evening shadows in "Song of Angels Chapel," Church of the Reformation, Glendale, California, as Mary Margaret Daniels, and Jay Lawrence Carter repeated vows which united them in marriage on January 20, 1967 at 5:30 p.m.

The Reverend, Phillip B. McKinley of Mission Hills Devonshire - Christian Church officiated at the single ring ceremony.

Mary Margaret is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Daniels of Hope. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Carter of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Given in marriage by her father, Mary Margaret wore a gown of heavily re-embroidered Ecru Lace fashioned with a high bodice and easy fitting skirt reminiscent of the Edwardian Era.

Her angel wing sleeves and slightly scooped neckline were accented with "Tatted" Lace. In lieu of the traditional veil the bride chose a Mantilla from Spain in the same color as her gown.

She carried an old fashioned sentimental bouquet centered with ivory cape jasmine encircled by tiny nosegays of violets, sprigs of pine, English ivy and daisies with the outline softened by sprays of heather and golden heads of wheat.

Joy Ann Crosnoe, cousin of the bride, attended her as maid of honor. Ann was, also, dressed in an Edwardian style gown of muted Old English print and carried flowers which repeated the tones and figures in the fabric. Her bouquet of miniature burgundy and gold mums, violets, heather, bachelor buttons and ivy was caught by velvet ribbons of earth green.

Mrs. Daniels, mother of the bride, wore a silk suit and matching accessories in pale blue. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. L. E. Carter, was attired in a suit of aqua silk with beige accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of identical clusters of delicate "Pink Sensation" rose buds contrasted with ribbon bows of the same earth green used in the maid of honor's bouquet.

The younger Mr. Carter honored his father by choosing him to serve as best man.

The bride is a graduate of Hope High School and Texas Christian University in Fort Worth.

Jay Carter, an alumnus of Abraham Lincoln High, was graduated from Drexel Institute of Technology in Philadelphia and earned his M.S.C.E. from the University of Florida.

Following a champagne supper, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Crosnoe of Mission Hills, at the Tam O'Shanter Inn, Glendale, the newly married couple departed for a San Francisco wedding trip. They will make their home in Culver City, California, where Mr. Carter is employed by Douglas Aircraft Corporation.

Among the guests attending the rites were Anthony W. McLarty, Hope, Arkansas, Robert Dunkleberger and Michael Mull, Pacific Palisades and Bowden G. Wilkerson, Jr. of Northridge, California.

Dry Lips?

A PRETTY MOUTH needs 24-hour protection. Since lips have no natural oil glands to prevent dryness, they need protection during your waking and sleeping hours. Avoid moistening your lips with a smack of your tongue if your lips feel dry. Be sure to re-touch your mouth after every meal with frosted lipsticks that are the creamiest and palest.

Werle Dresses 'That Girl'

By HELEN HENNESSY
Women's Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—California designer Dan Werle is living proof that designers, whatever their personal preferences, can keep on top of the times.

He thinks the Carnaby look is "cute" and has let its influence creep into the spring line from which Mario Thomas, star of TV's That Girl series, chose many numbers. He also designed her wardrobe for the show.

Yet Werle, who is certainly too young to have been part of Irene Castle's world, loved the pretty, feminine, soft look that was part of her success. He thinks covered-up things are "really sexy."

Werle designed the clothes for the Loretta Young show—those beautiful, swirling skirts that made her entrance on stage so dramatic. He talks of the fitted waistline and full skirt as something that should never have gone down fashion's drain. But he's right with it today.

He thinks New York designers are more influenced by Paris than the California people.

"In New York they blatantly copy Paris," he said. "I go to the collections because a designer must always know what's going on. But I don't copy."

Werle believes that although New Yorkers may take a dim view of the use of garish color and occasionally dramatic styling in California designs they would be better off to take a leaf from the California book. He thinks we conform too much.

"Women should take a chance—be a little more daring in their dress. Not theatrical, just imaginative instead of sheep."

He divulged a couple of secrets, too. Lana Turner is a 12 on top and a 10 around the hips. And Barbara Stanwyck is a lady endowed with such humility that she will sit on the top step of his showcase staircase and wait until his other customers have been cared for.

"I think hemlines will stay where they are for awhile," he said. "Then they will go straight down—no gradual drop."

And, incidentally, he does make some size 16s.

Youth Beat

THE NATIONAL REPORT ON WHAT'S HAPPENING

HOW TO BUILD A RECORD RECORD: Sandy ("Born a Woman") Posey made a special visit to YOUTH BEAT's office on her way to sign up for more big-time singing hits before flying on her current, quick pop-hop tour to England. So we asked the 5-foot-4, trim 115-pound, East Memphis post-teen (21), with a profile like a fine Greek coin, about her career as a tune warbler. By her experience, here's what to do to get rated "Best Newcomer."

At 19 amble into a recording studio across the river in Memphis . . . have a singer in the background group do a "no show" . . . and be pushed in front of the mike. Flop into bed that night too excited to sleep—because you'd made $45 in two hours (takes her two minutes nowadays). Then do backgrounds for this studio's recordings till a music publisher walks in . . . listens without much interest to a tape you'd fooled around and made . . . but, over a cup of coffee, senses you have the drive of a tune-smasher. What happened next was the publisher came up with an unknown tune and he and the studio producer asked Sandy to try it on for sound. Whammo—they got a hallelujah combination of this unknown girl and tune—now known as "Born a Woman." A first solo and first hit, this rolled up sales of a million, worldwide . . . six months later a second hit, "Single Girl" (it's edging up close to a million). Sounds like the crazy chances that can make success in the crazy sound-making business. But Sandy—a tiny songbird with an immense, quiet intensity—says, "You've got to want to make the sound—more than you want to do anything else. Because you don't see your gang much. You spend hours in a dark room listening to tapes, learning what messes things up, what's good. You sing any workhorse thing the studio asks, for practice. You know that any day you may have to hit the road. And you're out of your mind if you marry anyone (Sandy's unmarried) outside this music business." Sandy's working on a batch of new songs soon coming up. Watch for the next hit of this posy of a Posey—she's a gifted and determined songstress.

YOU'RE KEEPING COOL ABOUT THE HOT DRAFT: Uncle Sam's . . . O.K., so guys are yelling about the military draft—unfair (could be), interrupts your life plans (sure does), wish it didn't have to happen (fervent agreement) . . . But, despite all, the figures show you're doing not so badly. Because back in World War II, the rate of draft dodging (convictions in 1944) was over twice as high as it was in 1966. You're grumbling, but you're going along with Uncle Sam.

RUSSIA HAS A NEW SPUTNIK: The first Russian Sputnik, launched in historic space flight with the dog Laika in 1957, rocketed U.S. schools . . . toughened up your studies . . . especially in math and sciences. Now a second, a Commie Reader's Digest titled "Sputnik," has been fired at non-Russian countries to give them a capsule of Soviet views and news. First issue (in English) indicates nothing for you to worry about. Pocket-sized, thick (248) pages, slick-printed . . . contents are mostly dryish information in science and academic fields with more than a wee tinge of propaganda (lots on the wonders, little on the troubles of the Soviet Union). Not much bright or light stuff—Winston Churchill is covered fully, but as an enemy of the working classes . . . and the U.S. book, "The Last Battle" (of Berlin), is labeled pro-Nazi. Tone is that of a teacher talking down (maybe that's the Kremlin's idea of how to talk to you). But if you have Russian studies you might want to ferret out a copy to give you a peek at the weird and wonderful world of Russia from your local newsdealer. Anticipate more sputter than "Sputnik."

WEATHER, WHETHER OR NOT: It may be cold comfort, but studies show that inclement weather is roughest on those over 50, and guys and gals under 25 (YOU) can stand harsh extremes best . . . easily shrug off sudden weather changes. Brrr!

A REMINDER TO MOTHERS

Dear Helen: I am almost 13 and I need a bra badly. I can't talk to my mother about it because she doesn't like me. I am an only child.

You should hear the laughing in the gym when the girls see my ripped underclothes and little-girl undershirt that is too small for me. My mother thinks that takes the place of a bra. She says girls of 12 never need them. I have one pair of good pajamas that my mother keeps in her drawer and only lets me use when I go to a pajama party. My everyday pair are all raggedy.

My outside clothes are good, but my mother thinks what you wear underneath or at home doesn't count. We aren't poor. I hope when other mothers read this they will not put their kids through what I have to face.—ANOTHER BRA-BEAT

Dear B. B.: I hope so too! Maybe the following letter will wake your mother up:

Dear Helen: I am writing belatedly to Bra-Beat who wondered if it was all right to let her 12-year-old wear a beginner's bra, as the other girls did.

This mother should go ahead and buy the "in" underwear, no matter what her antiquated relatives think. I am 40 years old and can still remember how self-conscious and miserable I felt as an early teen-ager because I didn't have the correct underthings. Knowing you won't be laughed at is half the battle of growing up. It makes a big positive difference in a girl's attitude toward herself.

The self-confident, poised little girl, isn't the one who "grows up too soon" or gets in trouble. It's the girl who feels so different she must prove that she can get notice—somehow.

So often parents and grandparents read into a young girl's natural desire for up-to-date undies a whole constellation of sexual overtones that aren't really there. Let the children be as stylish as possible from the skin out, say I. Modish dress does not require large expenditures, nor does it make sex-mad monsters out of these youngsters. It DOES promote self-esteem. A bra is such a little thing, but it means so much to an unsure girl who thinks she needs it.—BETTY C.

Now, back to "Another Bra-Beat": Honey, why not show your mother these two letters and have a long overdue discussion? She doesn't dislike you—perhaps she has simply never learned to talk with her daughter. Maybe you've never given her a chance.

She won't recognize herself because this letter is a mixture of five pleas from different girls. May you all have nicer underwear day after tomorrow!—H.

Dear Helen: My boy friend told me I could keep his records no matter what happened between us. The other week he broke up with me and now he wants his records back.

Is this fair?—UNDECIDED

Dear Un: They're his records and even though "love" made him temporarily generous, he only lent them to you. Give 'em back!—H.

Hope 4th in District Standings

The Fairview Cardinals have taken over the leadership in Div. 4AA basketball. The Hope Bobcats upset the Smackover Bucks 60-54 to knock the Bucks out of tie with the Cardinals.

Coach Pat Foster's Red and White Cardinals have never won the 4AA titles. They have been the runner-up team several times and have provided the league's leading scorer more than any other team.

Of the contender teams the Cardinals have to face the Buckaroos and Crossett Eagles again in their remaining six games. The first of these two important showdown games comes Friday night when Smackover plays at Fairview.

Other games this week. Friday—Magnolia at Camden; Crossett at Malvern; Hope at Arkadelphia. Saturday—Fairview at Magnolia; Warren at Malvern; Crossett at Hope; Camden at Arkadelphia.

Other results last week: Fairview 65 Camden 46; Smackover 64 Camden 34; Magnolia 50 Malvern 41; Crossett 75 Warren 54; Warren 68 Arkadelphia 58. Game report not received on Hope at Magnolia; Arkadelphia at Malvern.

The challenge still remains with Hope and Magnolia in their fight to gain a third place finish and a berth in the state tourney, and time is running out. Smackover and Crossett each have two losses. Hope and Magnolia each have four losses.

Barry McMahan of Fairview still is the individual scorer leader with 251 points in 10 league games. Mike Holloway of Smackover has moved into the runner-up spot with 185 points.

Goal Tender Big Factor for Chicago

NEW YORK (AP) — A balanced attack and the superb play of reserve goal-tender Denis DeJordy have been the big factors in a 14-game unbeaten streak that has the Chicago Black Hawks winging toward their first National Hockey League title.

The Hawks, who have won 11 games and tied three since the midseason mark while opening a 14-point lead over second-place New York, boast five of the top 10 scorers, according to weekly NHL statistics released today.

DeJordy, meanwhile, has posted a brilliant goals-against average of 1.75 in 12 games since an injury sidelined regular goalie Glenn Hall, and has given the Hawks a solid lead in the Vezina Trophy race.

DeJordy and Hall have yielded 116 goals — eight less than New York netminders Ed Giacomin and Cesare Maniago — in 49 games. The Vezina Trophy goes to the goalie or goalies playing 25 or more games for the team which allows the fewest goals over the season.

Stan Mikita and Doug Mohns have paced the Hawks' attack during the unbeaten streak with 21 points apiece while Bobby Hull has registered 19 — including 14 goals — and Kenny Wharram and Phil Esposito 16 each.

Mikita lead the league with 74 points, the same figure Hull had after 49 games last season, when he wound up setting all-time records of 54 goals and 97 points.

Hull's 37 goals top the shooters and Mikita is the leading playmaker with 47 assists. Hull and Wharram are tied for third position, behind Detroit's Norm Ullman, in the point race. Mohns has a piece of seventh place, defenseman Pierre Plante a share of 10th and Esposito is 11th.

John Ferguson of Montreal, who registered the first hat trick of his career Sunday night at New York, continues to lead the point parade with 128 points.

W. Kentucky Is Fastest Finisher

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Western Kentucky might be a slow starter, but not even unbeaten UCLA is finishing faster. The Hilltoppers started the season with a losing streak of one straight and have been stretch running ever since.

Their finishing kick carried them to a 19th victory in a row Monday night, an 80-71 decision over Tennessee Tech, protecting their new No. 5 ranking among the nation's major college basketball teams.

Even the top-ranked Bruins can't top that string with their 19-0 record.

Two other top ten teams, Kansas and Houston, also ran well. The Jayhawks, now No. 6, overcame a slight delay in the last half and stopped Oklahoma State 52-39 in a slow-moving contest at Lawrence, Kan.

Houston, which dropped to seventh after losing Saturday, wiped off some of the tarnish by tumbling Creighton 87-80 at Omaha.

It appeared that fast-moving Western Kentucky might pull up lame in their stretch drive when it lost high-scoring Clem Haskins to injury last week, but it has not slowed the Hilltoppers.

Butch Kaufman and Greg Smith took the reins during an 11-4 outburst in the last 2½ minutes that broke Tech's back at Bowling Green. Smith finished with 24 points, Wayne Chapman 22 and Kaufman 20.

The Hilltoppers still have five games left, all against teams they have already beaten.

Kansas protected its narrow Big Eight lead and ran its record to 16-3 over-all with a 10-0 spurt opening the final half of a 33-16 lead that was never threatened by the Cowboys' deliberate game.

Elvin Hayes led Houston to its 17th triumph against three losses with 38 points, offsetting 35 by Creighton's Bob Portman.

Important league games held the rest of the spotlight as Tennessee took the Southeastern Conference lead by blasting Kentucky 76-57, and Michigan State revived its Big Ten hopes by knocking Indiana out of a first-place tie with Northwestern, beating the Hoosiers 86-77 at East Lansing, Mich.

Record Tennis Draw Cut to Field of 32

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — With a record draw reduced to the usual 32-man complement, the entire field was to swing into action today in the 64th U.S. Indoor Tennis Championships.

Defending champion Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico and Cliff Drysdale of South Africa, the top-seeded domestic and foreign players, were among the winners Monday as eight first-round matches were played.

Drysdale swept past Len Shloss of Baltimore, 6-3, 6-1, but Pasarell had a more difficult time before subduing Daniel Contet of France, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4.

In today's second round, Pasarell was to play Graham Stilwell of England, who scored a 6-6, 6-4 victory Monday over Dick Dell of Bethesda, Md.

Drysdale's opponent was to be junior star Manuel Orantes of Spain, who ousted Ion Tiriac, the 10-time champion of Romania, 6-4, 7-5.

Southern S. Win Could Climb Tie

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Southern State attempts tonight to clinch at least a share of the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference basketball when the Muleriders battle winless Ozarks at Clarksville.

The Muleriders, coasting along with a 13-1 conference and 17-2 season record, could wrap up their second consecutive crown with a victory tonight and one over seventh place Arkansas College at Magnolia Friday night.

In other AIC action tonight State College battles Arkansas A & M at Monticello, Arkansas Tech takes on Ouachita Baptist at Russellville and Hendrix meets Arkansas College at Batesville.

In the only AIC game Monday night Harding defeated Henderson 77-67 as George Frazier scored 20 points, Hubert Langley had 23 for the Reddies, who played without the league's leading scorer, Larry Duckworth.

A Reddie spokesman said Duckworth was "studying" but no further explanation was given.

Broken Hand Has Failed to Halt Barry

NEW YORK (AP) — With big Nate Thurmond unable to lend a hand, the San Francisco Warriors are hurting and Rick Barry is on his own.

But Thurmond's broken hand hasn't stopped Barry from making his points.

Although the Warriors dropped all four of their National Basketball Association starts last week — the last two after foot 11 Thurmond was sidelined, Barry increased his individual scoring lead and climbed over the 2,000-point mark.

The San Francisco sharpshooter scored 169 points, including a weekly high of 49 Sunday at Detroit, and boosted his per-game average from 36.0 to 36.4. He has a total of 2,147 points and a margin of 423 over runner-up Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati.

Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain, meanwhile, continued to sparkle in every department except foul shooting. Chamberlain is third in scoring, with 1,504 points; first in field goal percentage, with a .684 mark; first in rebounding, with 24.2 per-game, and third in playmaking, with 7.5 assists per game.

Guy Rodgers of Chicago and Robertson are 1-2 in assists while Cincinnati's Adrian Smith is the free throw leader with an .836 accuracy mark.

Athletes Worried Over New Flareup

By RON RAPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Two Villanova athletes say they have been threatened with the loss of their scholarships and at least three foreign athletes have been barred from the New York Athletic Club games this Friday in the latest flare-up of the war between the AAU and NCAA.

Practically everyone pleads innocence. The athletes are mystified, worried and angry.

It's an old, old story, this fight between the Amateur Athletic Union and the National Collegiate Athletic Association over control of the United States' track and field forces.

It may be settled soon. Theodore Kheel, a New York attorney who was appointed by Vice President Humphrey to head a panel mediating the dispute, said late Monday night that "we have something to say Tuesday."

He did not elaborate.

In the meantime, the fight goes on.

The latest episode involves the national indoor championships of the U.S. Track and Field Federation — an arm of the NCAA — in New York last Friday.

The AAU did not sanction the meet, and the USTFF did not request one.

So Chris Papanicolaou, a Greek pole vaulter now attending San Jose State, competed in the Federation meet, then was barred from the AAU-sanctioned Los Angeles Times meet last Saturday.

Papanicolaou was not scheduled to compete in New York this week, but three athletes who were scheduled, have been barred. They are Ian Hamilton of Villanova and Benedict Cayenne and Carver King of Maryland State. Hamilton is from Ireland, Cayenne and King from Trinidad. Frank Murphy, another Irish student at Villanova, also is on the blacklist.

Hamilton and Murphy said Monday night they were threatened with the loss of their scholarships if they did not run in the USTFF meet last week.

"We were told by Mr. Elliott (Villanova coach Jumbo Elliott) two hours before the meet that if we didn't run, our scholarships would expire this summer," Hamilton said.

"In other words, we were threatened," said Murphy.

"The only thing perhaps is that I told them they were under a track grant and that Villanova belonged to the U.S. Track and Field Federation," Elliott said.

"There's been some misunderstanding," said Villanova Athletic Director Art Mahan. "We just don't do things like taking away a scholarship."

The NCAA contends that a moratorium, constraining both sides to refrain from exclusive actions, still exists. The AAU does not agree.

"This (barring of athletes from meets) is a regretful action on our part," said Col. Don Hull, executive director of the AAU. "We did our best to get the meet sanctioned. We cannot understand why they did not ask for it."

In Kansas City, Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said that "the AAU threat of suspension is a direct violation of the U.S. Senate moratorium resolution, a restraint on competition. The threats are an outright power play by the AAU."

Drysdale Gets Pay Cut to About $105,000

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Durable Don Drysdale's getting a running start at the 1967 baseball season, feels fit and thinks the Los Angeles Dodgers will repeat as National League champions.

The 6-foot-6 right-hander signed his new contract Monday for what he and Dodger officials said was for an income in six figures. It was reported at $105,000 or a $5,000 cut from his 1966 pact.

The 11-year Dodger veteran, together with Sandy Koufax, held out in contract negotiations last year until March 30. Drysdale finally got $110,000 and Koufax settled for $125,000. Swift Sandy, 27-game winner last season, has now retired because of an arthritic elbow.

Overweight and undertrained, Drysdale got off to a poor start last season and finished with a 13-16 record. His late-season performances were impressive, though, and were instrumental in bringing the Dodgers the National League pennant.

Mr. Upset Has Gained Ground

By BEN OLAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
Louisville, Princeton, Western Kentucky and Kansas, four among the ranking teams which eluded an active Mr. Upset last week, have gained ground in the latest Associated Press major-college basketball poll.

Unbeaten UCLA, the only other team in the Top Ten to emerge without a loss last weekend, remained the poll's unchallenged leader. The Bruins, 19-0, were the unanimous choices for first place for the fifth straight week.

Vanderbilt, a top contender in the Southeastern Conference and Syracuse, 17-2, including 10 straight victories in its most recent games, are the newest members of the first 10. They replaced Providence and Boston College, two among the five ranking teams which were beaten in weekend games.

The Bruins, victors over Oregon State 76-44 and Oregon 100-66, collected all 32 votes for the No. 1 position in the latest balloting by sports writers and broadcasters based on games through last Saturday.

Louisville advanced to the runner-up position after defeating Drake 57-54 and Wichita 90-68. The Cardinals collected 275 points in the voting, based, as usual, on 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for second, 8 for third etc.

Princeton, which had to claw like tigers to beat Yale 81-80 and Brown 57-54, moved up one notch to third. North Carolina, an 82-80 loser to Georgia Tech, tumbled two places to fourth. The Tar Heels beat Virginia and Wake Forest earlier in the week.

Western Kentucky and Kansas each climbed one position, the Hilltoppers to fifth and Kansas to sixth. Western Kentucky beat Murray 88-79 in overtime and East Tennessee, 65-56, Kansas whipped Nebraska 84-58 and Kansas State 60-55.

Houston, an 87-78 loser to Notre Dame, slipped from fifth to seventh. Texas Western, despite its 69-56 setback by Notre Dame held the No. 8 spot.

Vanderbilt, 17-3 including a 10-2 mark in the SEC which places it a half game behind Tennessee, took over ninth place followed by Syracuse.

Providence, ninth a week ago, lost to Niagara 77-76 and Boston College, 10th last week, was upset by Fordham, 85-81.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1. UCLA (32) 320
2. Louisville 275
3. Princeton 222
4. North Carolina 203
5. Western Kentucky 180
6. Kansas 167

8. Texas Western 55

"I expect to win the Eastern Division by at least five games," Hannum said Monday 51 night after the 76ers snapped a two-game losing streak by defeating Cincinnati 131-123 in a National Basketball Association game as Wilt Chamberlain led the way with 58 points.

Hannum refused to even worry about a schedule which has his team playing 14 of its last 19 games on the road.

"Nuts to the schedule," Hannum exclaimed. "We have worked all season long to get six games ahead of Boston by good play on the floor. That's the way we'll stay there. I don't care whether the games are on the home or on the road. We'll win it."

The 76ers' coach bristled when it was suggested that his team has been in a slight slump. The 76ers have lost six of their last 13 games, as compared to a 46-4 record when the slide began.

Hannum was extremely pleased with Chamberlain's 58-point performance. He collected 26 field goals and six free throws to set a new 1966-67 record.

AFL Plans to Expand to Cincinnati

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The American Football League will expand to 10 teams by June, and Cincinnati reportedly has the inside track for the next franchise. League owners meeting here also have discussed moving the annual Super Bowl game to Miami.

Cincinnati, Birmingham, Ala., Seattle, Wash., and Phoenix, Ariz., were cities mentioned most prominently to become the league's 10th team. The owners also gave President Milt Woodard a three-year contract Monday.

Woodard's salary was not disclosed, but the contract would keep him in office until the merger of the AFL with the National Football League is completed in 1970.

In other business, the owners voted to open the upcoming season a week later than usual in order to avoid baseball scheduling conflicts at parks where the games will be played. The season will end Dec. 24.

Many owners were concerned about the relatively poor turnout at the initial Super Bowl game at Los Angeles. Only 63,036 fans turned out for the game in the mammoth 100,000-seat Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle was present as the owners discussed the possibility of moving the Super Bowl game to Miami where the Orange Bowl is being expanded to seat 75,000.

The owners later turned their attention to a combined draft. Woodard said they cannot set a date until the NFL examines the recommendations in a Honolulu meeting. He said the draft will be held in New York as soon as possible after the NFL session.

Woodard added there was strong sentiment among the players for an AFL-NFL All-Star game next January to replace the present arrangement of separate league All-Star contests.

76ers Coach Expects to Win the Title

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Coach Alex Hannum says his Philadelphia 76ers aren't hearing any footsteps.

"I expect to win the Eastern Division by at least five games," Hannum said Monday 51 night after the 76ers snapped a two-game losing streak by defeating Cincinnati 131-123 in a National Basketball Association game as Wilt Chamberlain led the way with 58 points.

Hannum refused to even worry about a schedule which has his team playing 14 of its last 19 games on the road.

Patterson Connects With Kayo

By STRATTON L. DOUTHAT
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Floyd Patterson is an aging boy-wonder with a good left hand and a chin that occasionally succumbs to outrageous fortune.

Patterson's left outranked his chin at Miami Beach Auditorium Monday night as he connected in the third round and laid out little known and even less regarded Willie Johnson of Miami. Johnson, who took a 12-10-1 record into the ring, landed one respectable punch before he exited with 2:05 gone in the third round.

But Patterson wasn't carried away by his performance.

"I don't think I deserve a shot at (champion) Cassius Clay yet," he told a reporter after the fight. Instead he said he planned to fight Thad Spencer either in Stockholm or California.

Patterson said that a Japanese promoter had attempted to arrange a rematch with Clay but that Clay had refused. "I hear that he will fight Zora Foley next," Patterson said.

The victory was Patterson's 45th in 50 fights and his second since bowing to Clay in 12 rounds last year in Las Vegas, Nev.

Patterson weighed 196 Monday night and was a half-second slower than a decade before when he defeated Archie Moore for the title left vacant by Rocky Marciano's retirement.

Once the fight game's youngest heavyweight champion and the only fighter to regain the heavyweight title, Patterson has spent more than a few seconds on the canvas since his victory over Moore.

Patterson lost two quick fights to Liston and then dropped the 12-round to Clay. After the Clay fight he said he had suffered a wrenched back and had not been at full mobility.

New Trial Overruled by Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court reaffirmed today the discretion of a trial judge to grant a new trial on the basis of new evidence, but it said this discretion can be abused.

The court reversed a judge's decision granting a new trial in Pope Circuit Court to J. R. Owen, who won a $6,250 jury verdict from the state Highway Commission for land lying in the right of way on Interstate 40.

Owen sought the new trial on grounds that evidence was not available to him on the extent of damage caused by a drainage structure discharging water onto 1½ acres of his land.

The court said that for a party to be entitled to a new trial because of newly discovered evidence, law requires that the evidence be of the nature that a person could not have discovered and produced it before the trial with reasonable diligence.

The court concluded that information was available to Owen before the first trial, June 17, 1966, Justice J. Fred Jones, in a dissenting opinion, said he believed the judge's decision was correct.

Jones said he believed the judge could have granted a new trial under Owen's original motion, which alleged that the verdict was grossly inadequate and that the jury did not understand the testimony.

In another case, the court upheld a $30,000 award by Crawford Circuit Court to Wesley L. Warnock for almost 16 acres of land.

Bridge Toll Measure Eliminated

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Senate approved a bill Monday eliminating the tolls on the Mississippi River bridge at Helena while the House defeated a measure prohibiting discrimination in milk pricing.

The Senate bill by Sen. Joe Lee Anderson of Helena and Dorothy Allen of Brinkley would appropriate $500,000 during each year of the next biennium to service the bonded indebtedness against the Helena bridge.

The bonds were issued in 1963 to finance the bridge construction. It has been estimated that the debt against the bridge is $10 million, including principal and interest.

The milk pricing bill failed by a vote of 42-35. It would make it unlawful for a milk producer or supplier to sell dairy products to retail companies at prices different from those charged other retail firms in the same pricing area.

Rep. Michael Womack of Mulberry objected to the bill because of a restriction against any discount for volume buying. He said volume buyers should receive discounts.

Rep. Dan Cook of Camden, one of the authors of the measure, said the bill was not intended to regulate dairy product prices.

The House also adopted an amendment providing for an appeal of a dismissal to circuit court and beyond to the state Supreme Court in a merit system bill by Sen. Guy Jones of Conway. Jones' bill, which covers about 7,000 more state employees than the 2,500 now under the merit system, came up for consideration last Friday, but action was deferred while the representatives readied the amendment.

The House made a school aid distribution bill a special order of business Wednesday. The compromise proposal would provide a flat raise of $500 for teachers in the first year of the biennium and would distribute funds on a formula basis in the next year with the districts guaranteed enough money for an average raise of $500.

In other action, the House: — Passed a bill permitting Johnson grass eradication districts to be established in counties that ask for them and establishing penalties for reluctant landowners.

— Passed a $100,000 supplemental appropriation for the governor's emergency fund for the rest of the fiscal year.

— Defeated a bill providing for an appeal of a decision by the Workmen's Compensation Commission directly to the state Supreme Court.

— Approved a bill putting gas-oil tax refunds to agricultural users on a calendar year rather than fiscal year basis.

In other action Monday, the Senate: — Approved 29-1 a bill that would authorize community junior colleges to contract with public agencies for shared facilities.

— Approved 28-3 a bill that would prohibit public officials from influencing a person's selection of eye specialists.

— Approved 34-0 a bill that would permit employment of a part-time teacher by two or more school districts.

— Approved 31-2 a bill that would permit additional state income tax exemptions for persons 65 years of age or older, since 1952.

— Approved 31-0 a bill that would make Boys Training School personnel eligible for membership in the state Teachers' Retirement System.

Shown above are Eugene A. Shuster, his wife Della, and their son, Allen, age 13. Mr. Shuster is the presiding minister of the local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, central unit, which will host the forthcoming convention of the group in Hope on Feb. 24-26.

In addition to serving as assistant director of the convention, Shuster will address the delegates on the subject, "Parents, Help Your Children," as part of the Saturday night session of the assembly.

Mr. Shuster is in business as a painting contractor, doing business in the Hope and Texarkana areas.

— Approved 34-0 a bill that would authorize the secretary of state to lease land to the Arkansas Athletic Association for a building site.

— Approved 31-0 a bill that would exempt single-family residences from construction for which a contractor must be licensed.

— Approved 22-7 a bill that would exempt retirement annuities of federal and state employees from taxable income.

— Approved 34-0 a bill that would authorize banks to form subsidiary companies to hold their buildings and property.

— Approved 25-0 a bill that would authorize Clark County justices of the peace to issue search and arrest warrants when the municipal judge and clerk are absent.

— Approved a series of bills by that would (1) require the governor to comply with provisions of the National Highway Safety Act, (2) permit the issuance of drivers licenses on a two-year basis, (3) permit issuance of drivers licenses on the basis of birth months, or some other staggered basis, and (4) require the Drivers License Bureau to maintain a central records file of all traffic violation convictions.

Nixon Sees Wide Open Convention

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon predicts a "wide open" Republican National Convention in 1968 "with more than two candidates. Lots of favorite sons who stick in there. A convention with several ballots."

"We haven't had an exciting (GOP) convention in years, not since 1952," the former vice president says. "Next time nobody will have this thing locked up."

Nixon's thoughts on next year's convention are in an interview in the Feb. 25 issue of the Saturday Evening Post. He was interviewed by Jules Witcof of the Newhouse National News Service.

Nixon did not indicate whether he is a possible candidate for the White House.

But in discussing his role as a campaigner in 1966, he said he could probably have "locked" the Republican presidential nomination by now if he had traveled around the country last fall looking for convention delegates instead of trying to help elect Republican congressional candidates.

Nixon said he had invited more presidential competition among Republicans by helping the party elect more governors, senators and representatives — in effect, by making the 1968 presidential nomination more valuable.

He said the Republicans have the best crop of candidates since 1952, "the year of Dwight D. Eisenhower's first election."

Among the "best crop" and

Celebrates Birthday

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — Bess Truman has celebrated her 82nd birthday quietly at home in Independence, Mo.

As leary of personal publicity as when she was the nation's first lady, she declined Monday to have her picture taken.

"You know the answer to that one," she said when asked to pose for photographers.

Vigorous and alert, she continues her quiet social life and is usually the chauffeur when she and former President Harry S. Truman go out for brief afternoon drives.

"new faces" in the nomination picture, Nixon mentioned Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois, Sen. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio, and Gov. George W. Romney of Michigan. Nixon did not mention Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

Nixon said New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller "is not out of it either."

Nixon also said in the interview that if he had beaten John F. Kennedy for the presidency in 1960 he "absolutely" would have gone through with an invasion of Cuba — probably even before his inauguration if Eisenhower gave him the authorization. Nixon indicated he probably would have chosen December, the month after the election, as the time for an invasion with the forces necessary to win.

House Prison Session Was a Rare One

By ROBERT L. SHAW
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas House suddenly found itself in a rare executive session Monday. The representatives quickly extricated themselves without acting on the reason they went behind closed doors in the first place—discussion of remarks by Oregon Gov. Tom McCall about the state's prison system.

Rep. W. H. (Bill) Thompson of Marked Tree wanted the House to hear a tape of a televised newscast Sunday in which McCall was quoted as saying Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller told him that members of a legislative committee investigating the prison system found three inmates "beaten unconscious" by convicts shortly after they had questioned them.

Both Rockefeller and House investigators denied that inmates were beaten unconscious.

Thompson's motion touched off shouts that executive sessions were unconstitutional. Rep. Harry Colay of Magnolia shouted that he had never heard of one in his 32 years in the House.

Reps. Charles Stewart of Fayetteville and Joe Hamilton of Harrison boycotted the session. They sat with newsmen and House employees in a room off the chamber.

The House met about five minutes before adopting a motion by Rep. Ray S. Smith Jr. of Hot Springs to expunge the record by which it went into secret session.

Smith warned the representatives behind the closed doors that the secret session would be difficult to explain to the public. He said he knew of no state business that could not be discussed in public.

The representatives yelled their assent to expunging the record and getting back into regular session. They then defeated a motion by Thompson that they meet as a committee of the whole to hear the tape as soon as it could be made available to them.

Some said later they thought they were voting to go into a committee of the whole rather than an executive session.

Parliamentarian Neill Bohlinger, whose association with the House dates to 1919, said he could remember only one other executive session by the representatives—a closed-door meeting about 1925 sought by a legislator who thought he had been insulted. Bohlinger said this session also lasted about five minutes.

He said the House rules allow "secret sessions."

Rockefeller said McCall had misinterpreted his remarks during a telephone conversation about the extradition of four Arkansas prison escapees who were captured in Oregon.

The governor said he had said the prisoners at Tucker were beaten, "but there was no inference" that they were knocked unconscious. "I regret that the statement was misinterpreted and that it has attracted so much national press attention," Rockefeller said.

Reps. Ivan Rose of Rogers and Van Taylor of Waldron told newsmen that they questioned convicts the night of Jan. 31 who were "slapped around" by inmates shortly after being interrogated, but that they were conscious and unmarked.

Rose said he talked with two inmates who said they received this treatment and Taylor said he talked with three.

The legislators said that while they had been questioning prisoners they heard a rumor that a "goon squad" planned to beat inmates who talked. Taylor said he and Rose drank coffee in the Tucker dining hall while waiting to see what happened and that within 15 minutes they heard a commotion in one of the prison barracks.

They said they investigated and found the prisoners had been "slapped around."

Rose said that later Pink Booher, fired as assistant prison superintendent in charge of Tucker Feb. 3, handed him a signed statement in which two inmates said the incident was "all in fun."

Rose and Taylor said they gave this information to Bob Scott, Rockefeller's aide for prison affairs.

The subject of McCall's comment was brought up by Rep. Lacy Landers of Benton, who read a transcribed copy of the newscast. He said he was "completely astounded and amazed" at the statement.

Landers said he was "beginning to believe that a lot of the accusations concerning our prison are highly exaggerated and some are absolutely false."

He said all three members of the committee from the House denied that prisoners were found unconscious.

In the transcribed statement, McCall was quoted as saying he was reluctant to sign the extradition papers of the four escapees until Rockefeller assured him the convicts would have proper legal counsel and that he would guarantee their protection from abuses at Tucker.

The statement said Rockefeller gave assurances of adequate legal counsel, but said he could not guarantee the escapees' safety inside the gates of the prison, although he could almost guarantee it because of the change in supervisory personnel at Tucker.

Rockefeller told a newsmen that McCall's statement was essentially correct except for the reference to the prisoners being beaten unconscious.

The governor said he couldn't guarantee the convicts' safety inside the prison because of the trusty system.

McCall said at Salem, Ore., that Rockefeller told him his firing of Booher and the three paid wardens at the prison was the result of beatings of Tucker inmates. He recounted what Rockefeller had told him of the incident found by the legislators, but he used only the word "beating."

FACTS

The Arabian oryx, the Tasmanian thylacine and about 1,000 other species of vertebrate animals are all close to extinction, says The World Almanac. Conservationists believe that, despite their efforts, dozens of species are lost for every one that is saved. The main threat to the animals comes from the constant incursions of man on their feeding and breeding grounds.

WIN AT BRIDGE
Finesse Better
Than Drop Play

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

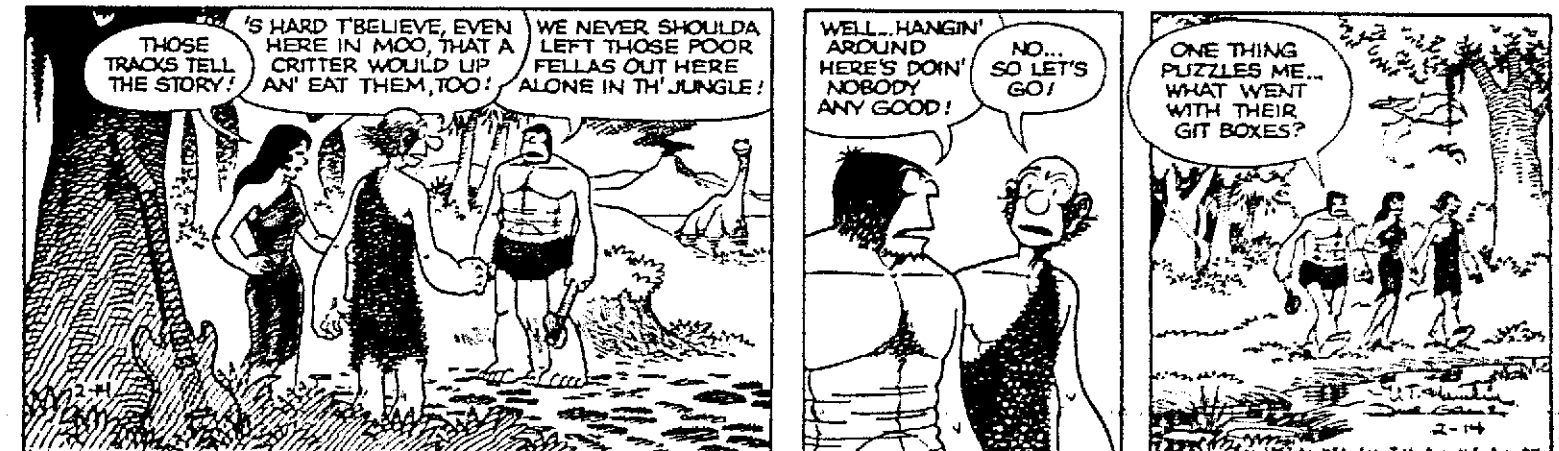

The advantage of the drop play against the finesse play when you are able to wait until the second round for your finesse isn't large. Actually, the drop play under those circumstances will succeed only 18 times more than a finesse in 1,000 hands. Therefore, the expert only prefers the drop play when all other things are equal. When he has collateral information, he may well decide that the finesse is better. The key cards today are the same as yesterday but something has been added. West has opened the bidding with three clubs. This preemptive bid makes South so enthusiastic about his hand that he contracts for seven no-trump after finding out that his partner holds the missing ace and kings. He gets the same opening lead of the club jack and leads a spade to dummy's king at trick two. Then he leads the second spade and after East follows Expert South is apt to think quite awhile. After all, more than 2,000 points are riding this time instead of a mere 30-point overtrick. If he is a real expert, he won't think long because he is going to finesse. The club bid has marked West with a lot of clubs. At this time of decision South will know that East's ten remaining cards won't include many clubs while West's 11 remaining cards will include a lot of clubs. Hence East will be more likely to hold the queen of spades than West and South will know that on this occasion the finesse offers a better chance of success than the drop play.

Peace Talk in Vietnam Like a Duffel Bag

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Talk of peace in Vietnam is like a duffel bag, full of familiar things. It hasn't changed much in a year.

Here in Washington reports that the North Vietnamese might be interested in discussing an end to the war, or that some contact has been made with them, float around like gnats in the evening.

They get swatted, but the gnats keep coming. It was that way before. And now, as before, President Johnson says the North Vietnamese don't show much interest.

suggestions. Nothing came of it. Now, in 1967, the administration is still saying it wishes the North Vietnamese would make a sign. So far there has been none, at least so far as the public can see.

Several days ago Goldberg announced he would visit a dozen countries, including Vietnam, on what he called a fact-finding mission, which may seem different from a peace mission, but probably isn't.

And last week the President went a long way out of his way to tell the world the United States was all for wanting peace

But that the North Vietnamese wouldn't listen. He must have said the same thing a hundred times before.

But this time he made it a big project.

He took up almost the full 25 minutes of his televised news conference to repeat nine times that the North Vietnamese had given no sign of being in the market for peace.

And this was a repetition of what he said in his State of the Union message Jan. 12, 1966.

Last year Moyers revealed two days before Johnson's State of the Union message that contact had been made with a North Vietnamese representative. This year another Johnson aide, this time a day after his news conference, seemed to hint a contact had been made now.

Walt Rostow, Johnson's adviser on national security affairs, said the United States and North Vietnam were now involved in "what is or might turn out to be a negotiating process" toward peace.

This was a rather stuffy way of saying the two sides were doing business in a way that might get peace talks started but he didn't build up any hopes. For he said nothing so far could be considered a serious offer by the other side.

This made front pages but, when examined, it didn't seem to say any more than Johnson had said at his news conference when he said the North Vietnamese hadn't shown any hopeful sign.

As can be seen from the above, anyone seriously trying to keep track of all the peace talk from one year to the next really needs a score card, and maybe a stenographer and a file cabinet.

Drive on to Bring Down Sukarno

By T. JEFF WILLIAMS
JAKARTA (AP) — The campaign to bring down President Sukarno continued Monday night with a broadcast statement from the chairman of Congress, Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution, accusing Sukarno of being a Communist sympathizer who knew in advance of the attempted Red coup Oct. 1, 1965.

Nasution's statement, read over Radio Jakarta, was in answer to a challenge from Sukarno to the general to explain his own actions at the time of the attempted coup, Nasution was then defense and security minister.

The general charged that shortly before the coup, Communist party Chairman D.N. Aidit attempted to swing army Brig. Gen. R.H. Sugandhi over to the Communist side by telling him of the plans.

"All this is known by Sukarno," Nasution quoted Aidit as saying. Aidit was killed during the bloody suppression of Communists after the coup.

Sugandhi then informed Sukarno of the plot, Nasution continued, and he said Sukarno replied: "Don't follow this Communist phobia. Don't you know the generals are hopeless?"

Nasution also charged that Sukarno chose to go to the Communist headquarters on the day of the revolt rather than to the army.

Six top army generals were slain by Communist assassins on the morning of the coup attempt. Nasution escaped by climbing over the wall behind his house.

Nasution's statement was one of the strongest attacks against the president by a top government official since the campaign opened to force him out of power.

The accusations are expected to be followed up when Congress meets early next month to conduct a full investigation of Sukarno's connection with the coup attempt. Sukarno has persistently refused to give an account or an explanation of his actions.

Indonesia's Parliament, which ranks below the Congress, has adopted a resolution asking Congress to dismiss Sukarno from the presidency. Informed sources said Monday Sukarno may leave the country before Congress meets, but the president told newsmen today he would remain in Jakarta despite the moves to force him out

Powell's Wife Has Agreed to Testify

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adam Clayton Powell's wife has agreed to testify Thursday before the select House committee investigating Powell's qualifications to be seated, a committee spokesman says.

If she appears, it would be a reversal of Y. Marjorie Flores Powell's refusal to appear before another committee which probed her husband's activities late last year and ordered her fired from a $20,500 job on Powell's committee.

The current committee had hoped to conclude public hearings today but scheduled another session Thursday to accommodate Powell's estranged wife, William A. George, the committee's counsel, said Monday night he had been promised by Mrs. Powell's attorney that she would fly to Washington from her home in San Juan, P.R., Wednesday and testify Thursday.

The committee had little hope that Powell or two women who were members of his staff when he was a House committee chairman would appear at today's session.

Powell, who faces the possible loss of his House seat, refused last week to answer questions put to him by the committee. The queries were about his New York court troubles and alleged misuse of government travel funds.

Monday the committee made public a letter to the Harlem Democrat in which it stated its belief that it has the power to recommend seating, expelling or otherwise punishing him.

Powell also was told he would be permitted to make a statement to the committee if he came, regardless of whether he submitted to questioning. Powell criticized the committee last week for refusing to let him make a statement when he refused to answer its questions.

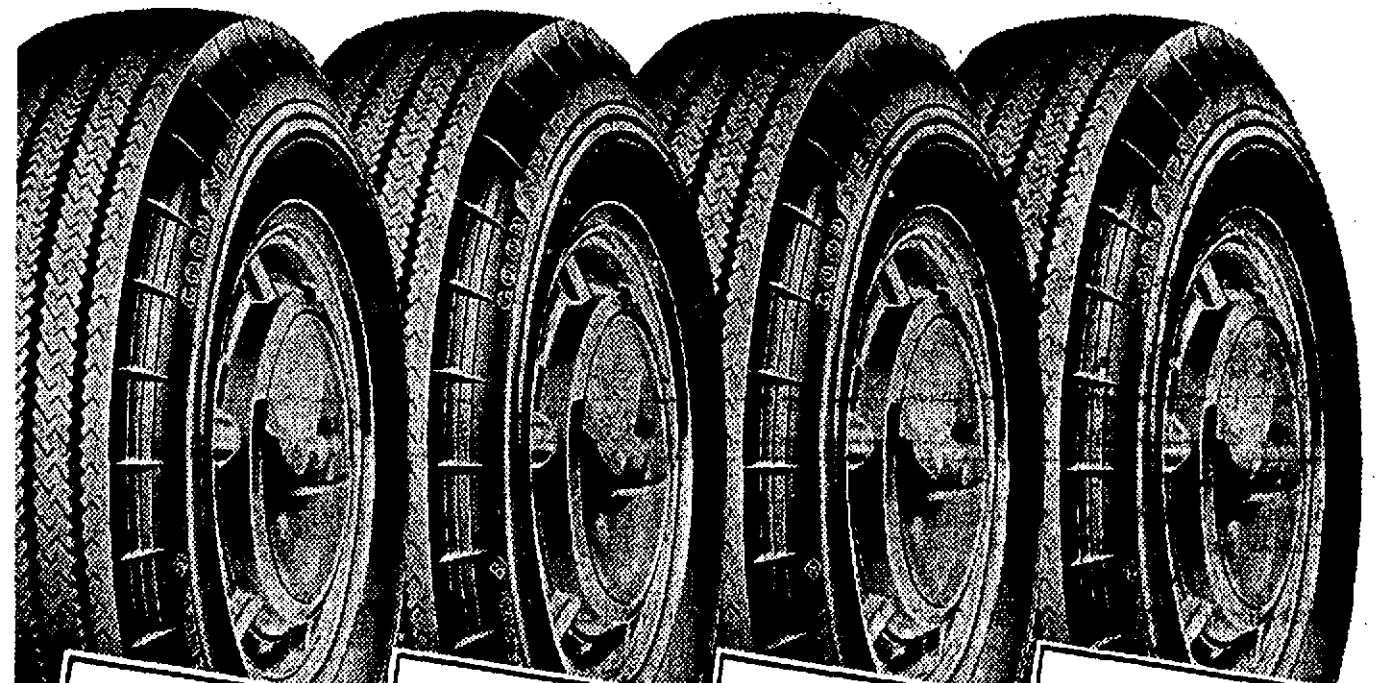

He contended the committee is entitled to question only whether he meets age, citizenship and ineligibility requirements.

While Powell's appearance was left a voluntary matter, the three women all were subpoenaed to appear. The committee reported it was unsuccessful in trying to serve a subpoena on Emma Swann, a former receptionist in his office.

A subpoena was served on Corrine Huff, 25, one-time beauty contest winner who is Powell's secretary

Very Nearly End of the Honkers; Martins Begin

Your editor had a rough week-end, but luck was on his side and he wound up with a happy ending Monday afternoon.

His pet Canadian Honkers, a mated pair 4 years old, grew new flight feathers since their last trimming in September. The editor remembered this last Friday night and resolved to do something about it Saturday. But the big oyster-colored geese beat him to it and flew out of the S. Walnut St. preserve about daylight Saturday.

For all he knew they were en route to Canada. But Saturday night Douglas Drake of the Village Rexall Pharmacy found one of the Honkers in the Village square and locked it up in a restroom, Sunday morning Dr. Herbert Rogers took it to his veterinary establishment and notified me.

I felt better. The other Honker obviously was still in town, for the Canada Goose mates for life and one never goes anywhere without the other. About 2 p.m. Monday Mrs. J. M. Reed, 505 S. Walker, telephoned The Star and said she had a big wild goose locked up in her garage. I went down with the reward money and a staff member driving my car, and headed for Dr. Rogers' place with a fat Canada Goose sitting in my lap.

Now they're both plinked—just enough taken off the end of the wing bone to make them permanently flightless. All I wanted was to keep the old pair here, letting the goslings—if any—fly away as they chose.

All that remains now is to see what happens when the Honkers are reunited with their old pals at the S. Walnut St. preserve. The Mallard ducks never missed them—but they'll get a noisy welcome from the two white domestic geese—Mrs. Grundy and Gen. Charles deGaulle. Really he's a dead-ringer for the austere Frenchman—sticking out his long neck like the uncoupled hose of a vacuum-cleaner and looking down his beak in the approved deGaulle fashion. . . .

This is the first purple-martin report of the season.

A pair showed up at the martin box of Mrs. Kenneth Cox of Fulton on Monday.

Which is a reminder to get busy and clean out your martin houses of old nests built by sparrows. The martins will come back to you—but they won't stay if their boxes give evidence of being already occupied. That's why it is good practice to mount a martin box on a spliced pole, so you can draw a king-bolt and lower the upper half to the ground for easy cleaning of the box.

Picket Line Greets Gov. R. Reagan

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — "Absentees? What absentees? There were none reported to us," said California Gov. Ronald Reagan's press secretary, raising his eyebrows in mock surprise.

But reporters who checked the state Capitol and state buildings at San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego, San Bernardino and Fresno heard mainly their own echoing footsteps as they sought out the 166,000 state employees.

California's state workers had been invited by the new Republican governor to volunteer their services Monday, the Lincoln's Birthday holiday.

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — Astronaut Edwin E. Aldrin Jr., the world's champion space-walker, is in a Houston hospital for "minor elective surgery."

A spokesman at the Manned Spacecraft Center said Aldrin would undergo a hemorrhoidectomy in the next few days.

Aldrin, 37, an Air Force lieutenant colonel, holds the record for spending the most time outside an orbiting spacecraft. He stayed outside Gemini 12 for 5 hours and 37 minutes last November.

Rockefeller Urges Legislature to Stay Within State Budgets

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller proposed a $415.7 million budget for the 1967-69 biennium Monday, a figure $8 million above his previous recommendation and four per cent higher than the state's anticipated $359.4 million in revenue.

The governor said his budget included $500-a-year salary increases for the state's public school teachers, a $5-a-month increase in welfare checks, "substantial increases" for our "hard-pressed" colleges and universities and "modest increases" in aid to cities and counties.

Rockefeller also proposed the creation of a Department of Administration and the establishment of a Personnel Division within the new department.

"I place great hope in these proposals," he said. "I believe the ultimate effect will be to save the taxpayers of this state literally millions of dollars."

The governor said bills would be introduced in the legislature to create the new department and division, and that they would provide for the transfer of the comptroller's office, the budget division and the state purchasing department to the new department.

Here are some of his recommendations:

PUBLIC SCHOOLS — $94.3 million, 1967-68; $104.5 million, 1968-69; now $83.2 million.

COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES — $33.2 million, 1967-68; $37.7 million, 1968-69; now $27.7 million.

WELFARE — $25.1 million in 1967-68 and 1968-69; now $19.4 million.

COUNTY AID — $19.5 million in 1967-68 and 1968-69; now $4.1 million.

MUNICIPAL AID — $18.5 million 1967-68; $20 million, 1968-69; now $3.7 million.

GENERAL SERVICES — $7.4 million, 1967-68; $7.7 million, 1968-69; now $4.9 million.

"Since it was necessary to operate the state government for the first half of each fiscal year without adequate tax receipts, it was prudent to maintain balances to carry on during the 'dry' months. Now, with the withholding tax system, our revenues are collected and received on a much more current and uniform basis than before. Therefore, the need for even the relatively smaller surpluses has been considerably reduced."

Rockefeller recommended expenditures of $199.2 million during fiscal 1967-68, and $216.5 million during fiscal 1968-69. He estimated anticipated general revenues at $175.5 million the first year and $183.9 million the second year.

"These excesses are within reason on a two-year budget projection basis, and our budgetary control processes will take care of the possibility of deficits," Rockefeller said.

The governor emphasized his belief that four per cent was the maximum overage allowable, however, and warned the legislature that if it went beyond this, it also would have to approve a tax increase to keep the state out of a fiscal "strait-jacket."

Rockefeller said he would be opposed to any tax increase. "Personally, I feel that such action would be detrimental to the economy as a whole," he said, adding that he felt just as strongly that this was not the time to reduce taxes.

If the legislators don't agree with the manner in which he

Penologist Takes Over State Prison

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A penologist who says Arkansas' trusty system is "interesting" has taken over as the head of scandal-ridden Tucker Prison Farm.

Thomas O. Murton, 38, an assistant professor of criminology at Southern Illinois University, was named assistant superintendent at Tucker Monday by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller.

Murton said there was no question but that guards should be part of the paid staff and that prisoners should not be allowed to carry guns.

He said he believed the trusty system — one in which trusted prisoners are given responsible position, including guarding other inmates—should be phased out over a period of time.

Murton succeeds Pink Booher who was fired Feb. 3 by Rockefeller. State Police have been in charge at Tucker since then.

The governor said that it was Murton who visited Tucker last week and told him his firing of Booher and three wardens prevented a "dramatic prison revolt."

The governor said Murton, who volunteered his services, was hired by Prison Supt. O. E. Bishop.

Bishop said a penitentiary study committee had recommended that the salary of the assistant superintendent be increased from $8,000 a year to $10,000. Rockefeller said this was less than Murton received in his teaching job at Southern Illinois.

Murton said his visit to Tucker "generally confirmed what was reported in the press. Indications were that the situation was bad."

Rockefeller released a State Police report on an investigation at Tucker last summer. It detailed sordid tales of extortion, beatings and other abuses administered on convicts. The report received nationwide publicity.

Murton, who said he became "curious and concerned" about the state's prison system, has been superintendent of six penal institutions, most of them in Alaska.

Murton served as an assistant training officer of the School of Criminology of the University of California and made an assessment of juvenile correctional training programs in California.

Prospects of Peace at Lowest Point

By SPENCER DAVIS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Vietnam peace prospects appeared at their lowest point in two months today as U. S. bombing of North Vietnam resumed and weeks of optimistic speculation ended.

U. S. officials said peace efforts had receded to their pre-Christmas position.

President Johnson, in announcing the resumption of bombing late Monday, said he had hoped the cease-fire during the lunar new year "might lead to some abatement of hostilities and to moves toward peace."

But he said the North Vietnamese had used the pause "for major re-supply efforts of their troops in South Vietnam."

Johnson apparently referred to Sunday night's meeting in London between Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin and British Prime Minister Harold Wilson when he said: "Despite our efforts and those of third parties, no other response has yet come from Hanoi."

Johnson earlier had indicated determination to resume the air war in the absence of any North Vietnamese easing of military activity.

But the North Vietnamese insisted on a halt in U. S. bombing and withdrawal of troops before peace talks could get started.

North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh made this clear in a reply to Pope Paul's appeal for an early settlement of the conflict.

He wrote, "The U. S. imperialists must put an end to their aggression in Vietnam, and unconditionally and definitely the bombing and all other acts of war against the Democratic Republic of Vietnam, withdraw from South Vietnam all American and satellite troops, recognize the South Vietnam National Front for Liberation (Viet Cong) and let the Vietnamese people settle themselves their own affairs."

That appeared a re-statement of conditions previously rejected by the United States.

Peace hopes began building up about two months ago when North Vietnamese officials dropped hints negotiations "could" start if the U. S. bombing was permanently halted.

There have been three truce intervals since December and diplomats have been particularly hopeful that the latest might bring a breakthrough in the quest for a peace formula.

In his White House statement, Johnson said, "The door to peace is and will remain open and we are prepared at any time to go more than halfway to meet any equitable overture from the other side."

Officials reiterated this meant North Vietnam must scale down its military operations if U. S. bombing of the north is to be halted.

It appeared logical, sources said, that U. S. bombing attacks would be intensified in the next few days or weeks in an effort to eliminate advantages Viet Cong and North Vietnamese fighting units may have gained during the 138-hour bombing lull.

During the past week, Secretary of State Dean Rusk emphasized the United States would not halt the bombing of North Vietnam without some reciprocal move by the Communists.

Ike's Works to Be Displayed
NEW YORK (AP) — Works by one of the nation's most famous amateur painters will go on display in New York's Gallery of Modern Art this spring.

More than 60 paintings by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will get their first public exposure in an exhibition to benefit the new Eisenhower College in Seneca Falls, N.Y.

Eisenhower is recuperating in California from a gallbladder operation. Monday he attended a concert by the Moral Re-Armament "Up With People" troupe — a group of 150 young singers.

He applauded the performance enthusiastically and told the troupe, "I wish there were six million of you."

Planes Bomb Supply and Rail Lines

By ROBERT D. OHMAN
SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — American fighter-bombers pounded railroad lines and other supply routes in North Vietnam today and U. S. Navy ships attacked shipping along the North Vietnamese coast as U. S. forces resumed war operations north of the demilitarized zone.

In South Vietnam, allied ground units reported only light contact with the enemy, but U. S. Air Force and Marine pilots flew a record 535 sorties in support of the sweeping infantrymen Monday.

The spokesmen also announced that seven men of the U. S. 1st Cavalry Airmobile Division were killed and four were wounded Monday night when five rounds of their own artillery landed among them.

The spokesmen also announced that one man of the U. S. 4th Infantry Division was killed Sunday and 14 were wounded when a U. S. plane's bomb went astray during an operation. However, a claymore mine went off in the same area just before the bomb explosion, and the spokesmen said it might have caused some of the casualties.

The first American air strike against the Communist north since the lunar new year truce began last Wednesday morning was made at 1:07 a.m. by two Air Force F-4C Phantoms. They attacked the Vinh Tuy highway bridge seven miles south of Dong Hoi, the U. S. Command said.

Navy A-6 Intruders pounded rail facilities in half a dozen areas in the North Vietnamese panhandle.

Poor weather conditions limited the air raids to the panhandle area and hampered damage assessment estimates. The Air Force announced its pilots flew 12 missions — about 36 planes — in the first five hours after the bombing pause ended.

A U. S. spokesman said there "definitely were further" strikes throughout the day.

Gets $32,000 in Jewelry

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Bill Newton lost $32,000 in jewelry when a burglar ransacked a jewelry case in his bedroom closet, Fort Smith police reported Monday.

Police quoted Newton, a jeweler, as saying three diamond rings, one worth $17,000, and three watches were stolen.

Rep. Alvin E. O'Konski of Wisconsin, a member of the House Armed Forces Committee, said that reconnaissance photos showed more than 300 ships in North Vietnamese ports during the four-day lunar new year cease-fire. O'Konski said he saw them at a briefing by the Central Intelligence Agency in Washington Saturday.

"They shook me, and I'm still shaken," O'Konski said Monday night in a speech at Concordia Lutheran Church.

O'Konski said that ships in North Vietnam ports during the truce included some from Great Britain, France, Greece, and Yugoslavia, among others.

He declared that the Soviet Union is the real enemy in the war and that the North Vietnamese "couldn't keep up the fight for more than a couple of weeks without aid of the Russians."

A map of surface to air missile sites in North Vietnam resembles a "bad case of smallpox," O'Konski said. He said the missile bases were the source of most American plane losses.

He said the Soviet Union should be told to remove the missiles by a certain time or have them wiped out by U. S. bombers.

"We should have showed them we meant business three years ago and the war would have been ended three years ago," the congressman said.

A lone gunman held up the Western Union office in downtown Hope about 7:20 last night, forced the operator on duty to hand over $26 in cash, locked her in a back room and fled after cutting telephone wires and seizing a handful of money orders.

In less than an hour a man identified as Louis Albert Voltz, 51, of Arlington Heights, Ill., was taken into custody at Texarkana by State Troopers John Jarvis and Robert Ryan. The money, money orders and a toy plastic pistol were found on him.

Charges of armed robbery and auto theft were filed against Voltz by Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Norman Smith.

The Western Union Operator, Mrs. Guylene Bradley, told officers the man entered and asked for a money order blank. She gave him one and he placed a sack on the counter, threatened her and demanded she put all the money in the sack.

Mrs. Bradley was stunned and suddenly saw the gun the man held on her. When she hesitated he came around the counter and she quickly handed over the money, Mrs. Bradley said.

She said he told her to go to the rest room and stay there. She heard noises and finally heard him leave. Mrs. Bradley ran out the back door to a pool hall and police were quickly notified. Some men in the pool hall returned with her to the office where they discovered the money orders missing and telephone wires cut.

Police with a good description, quickly radioed surrounding points. A roadblock was set up at Texarkana and Voltz was apprehended near a bowling alley by the state officers.

Officers Joe McCulley, who aided in the investigation, said an auto driven by Voltz had been stolen in Oklahoma. However, Hot Springs, Ark. license plates were on the vehicle.

Voltz is in Hempstead County jail pending trial. All city, state and county officers joined in the manhunt which ended within an hour after the robbery.

Critical of Buildup During Truce

SUPERIOR, Wis. (AP) — A Republican critic of the Johnson administration's handling of the Vietnam war says he was shaken by revelations of the Communist buildup during the recent truce.

Rep. Alvin E.
